Washington Letter.

By Tavenner.

Another step toward carrying out campaign pledges was taken by the majority of the House of Representatives when it adopted a cotton schedule which greatly reduces the tax on all kinds of cotton goods.

If the Republican Senate and President Taft will permit the bill to become a law, the public will be assured of substantial reductions in prices. The bill is so framed as to be a particular boon to the poor, for the greatest reductions are made on cottons used by the middle classes and the poor. This feature of the Democratic bill is in particularly striking contrast to the Payne-Aldrich law, which levies the lowest rates on the grades of cottons used by the wealthy and the highest tax on the cottons used by the poor.

The Payne-Aldrich tax of 50.02 per cent on ready made clothing and articles of wearing apparel of every description composed of cotton or vegetable fibre is reduced to 30 per cent. The Payne-Aldrich tax of 45 per cent on blankets and quilts, towels, doilies, batting, mops, washrags, etc., is reduced to 25 per cent. The Payne-Aldrich duty of 50.02 on sheets is cut to 25 per cent. The Payne-Aldrich tax on shirts, sweaters, and all articles of cotton underwear of every description is reduced to 30 per cent. Similar reductions are made on every item in the entire cotton schedule.

DEMOCRAT OPPOSES TAFT CENSORSHIP.

An important measure pending before Congress is House Resolution No. 5970, introduced by Congressman James T. Lloyd of Missouri.

The measure is aimed particularly at the action of the Taft administration in prohibiting postal employees from organizing, and the still more remarkable Taft policy of denying civil service employees the right to petition Congress, or even to give members of Congress information until it has first been censored by their superiors.

The Constitution guarantees to every citizen of the United States the right to petition Congress.

The Lloyd resolution occupies the novel role, therefore, of having for its purpose the restoration to government employees of rights they are entitled to under the constitution, but which rights have been taken away from them by the President in his desperate effort to prevent a further leakage of information injurious to the Republican party such as occurred in the Ballinger case.

CONSIDERATION FOR WOMEN

The cotton bill reported by the Democratic Ways and Means committee is especially designed to benefit the women and children of the country, there being a reduction of more than 45 per cent on nearly every item in the cotton bill used by them.

DR. WILEY'S GOAT.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, a storm petrel between food dopers and the Taft administration, has been a militant government chemist for 28 years. Packers of embalmed beef are arrayed against him because of his fight against the use of benzoate of soda. Benzoate increases the profits of embalmed beef packers because it will "restore" and preserve meats that have become putrescent. The cost of manufacture of bologna and sausage may be materially reduced by using water and cereals. Water costs nothing and cereal is cheaper than meat. The result is a cheapening of the product and a lowering of the food value. But when water and cereal is used the meat begins to sour. It is to prevent this souring process that the benzoate of soda may be used. Chemists declare benzoate is of no earthly use to the manufacturer who puts pure food upon the market.

Dr. Wiley also fought the bleached flour interests to the ditch. He exposed the injurious colorings used in candies sold to children. He stubbornly opposed the use of sulphur as a fruit preservative. He secured the removal of the tax on denaturated alcohol. He exposed frauds without number in patent medicines. It was Wiley who started the war on the use of narcotics and other poisons in soda fountain drinks. And he stubbornly fought the whiskey trust until he was at least overruled by President Taft.

These facts tell better than a long article could why it is up to the food dopers to get Wiley's goat. Also why it is up to the people to see that they don't get it.

PHILIPPINE INDEPENDENCE LOOMS AHEAD.

Speaker Champ Clark believes that the United States should grant independence to the Philippines, "both for their good and our own." Furthermore Mr. Clark advocates early action on the subject. This is in contrast to the attitude of President Taft, who takes the position the Philippines should not be given independence "within the time of the present generation," which the Philippines interpret as meaning never.

Here is what Speaker Clark recently wrote to a friend on the subject: The Philippines should be given their independence guaranteed by the United States and such other powers as are willing to join us. If no other powers are willing to join us, I think our own guarantee would be sufficient, but I am for freeing them regardless of what the other powers do. My friend Judge Cline of Indiana has introduced a bill providing for their independence. I think we will pass it next winter, and then it will be up to the Senate and the President."

WHY NOT A ROOSEVELT INVESTIGATION?

During the present auditing by the Democratic House of the Republican administrations for the last decade, it wouldn't be out of place to look into the Roosevelt-Harriman episode. The late railroad king raised $200,000 at Roosevelt's request to save New York for the Republicans in the Roosevelt-Parker campaign.

REPUBLICAN CHAOS.

The Republicans are literally up in the air, their old-time stand-bys, props and policies all shake in the Democratic upheaval. Reciprocity has helped Taft of course, but the Republicans have always won on protection. Taft has abandoned protection and the result is a matter of speculation.

The Way to Treat Old Women.

In the August Woman's Home Companion, Margaret E. Sangster writes of youth and old age. Following is an extract:

"I hold firmly to the belief that few of us need to grow old unless we choose. Every decade has its advantages and pleasures, its dignities and privileges. We grow old only if we let ourselves rust, if we lose our sympathy with the young and cease to be interested in the current history of the globe. When a woman no longer needs to give her time and attention to her children, she should seize firmly upon another interest, and in its selection she should be guided by her own tendencies rather than by the wishes of her family and friends. Nothing is more distasteful than dictation to a woman who feels herself on a precise equality with those around her, but finds herself gently pushed in a direction which may not appeal to her. 'Mother would better not accept this invitation.' 'Mother cannot think of going on a shopping excursion by herself.' If friends are coming to dine with mother, Ellen or Nora or Melissa must be at home to be sure that no mistakes are made, that the dinner is perfectly served and the house precisely as it ought to be.

'If I could ever be left to myself for a single day,' a woman once said to me, 'I should feel myself in heaven beforehand; but if it isn't Katherine, it's Maria; and if it isn't Maria, it's Gertrude; and if they are all going away, they arrange without consulting me, to have Cousin Mary or Aunt Sophia come for a casual visit, just as if I did not see through the whole transparency. I shall run away some day and give them a chance to play hide-and-seek.'

'The restlessness of girlhood is unlike the restlessness of later life, but for both there might be a little wholesome neglect on the part of anxious dear ones. To the assiduous and tenderly zealous young people who are unremitting in their waiting upon and offering relief to people who are frankly old and do not mind it, I recommend tact and the thoughtful consideration of two aspects of the case. One is that experience counts for something as an asset, and the other that youth is steadily marching on toward age, so that it may be as well for the young to, mentally, put themselves in the place of the old.'

GOOD LIVER REMEDY FREE

When you suffer from any form of indigestion it is always well to take something for the liver, as usually the trouble lies there. If you are bilious, have a bloated feeling after eating, if you belch, if your skin is yellowish you may be sure it is liver trouble.

What you need is something to stir up the liver, to arouse the gastric juices so that they will aid in the digestion of your food. A very good remedy for this, and one highly recommended by those who have used it, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which you can obtain of any druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. But if you have any doubt about its merits, and would prefer to try it first, send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will promptly send you a free sample bottle.

Thousands of people first learned of this remarkable cure for stomach, liver and bowel troubles through a free sample. Mrs. Frank Lilly of Plainview, Ill., sent for one and it cured her and she is open in saying that she will never take pills or strong cathartics again, as Syrup Pepsin acts so mildly. Mr. W. L. Bryant, the Postmaster at Sardin, Tenn., says he will never be without it again. No sick person can afford to ignore a remedy so highly endorsed as this. It is good for all the family from infancy to old age, because it is mild, free from gripping and yet promptly effective. Furthermore, results are absolutely guaranteed or money will be refunded.

ELEPHANTS WHO WORK

They Receive Extra Pay in Peanuts and Dainties.

Without doubt the most intelligent and versatile pachyderms ever seen in America are the score of elephants with the Hagenbeck-Wallace Shows, which exhibit here Wednesday, August 9, 1911. Their field of usefulness is not confined to pageantry and performances, though they are especially prominent in these dual roles. No elephant bearing in state Indian princes or potentate was ever more gorgeously robed and bedecked than these circus elephants in the Hagenbeck-Wallace street parade. Clothes of gold-finger velvet embroidered with silver thread and covered with brilliant ornaments, reach to the ground on either side, leaving only the heads of the ponderous beasts exposed. On their backs are immense howdahs, designed after the most ornamental of those used by East Indian dignitaries in the great durbar. The style of architecture is extremely oriental; there is extravagant use of gold leaf and jewels and the furnishings are of the costliest silks and satins. In the howdahs the elephant trainers are seated garbed in regal splendor, representing oriental potentates.

At the performance in the arena displays the elephants are divided in companies filling the three rings, giving a forceful illustration of man's mastery over the biggest brutes of the animal kingdom. These modern mastodons interpret intricate drills, the latest terpsichorean triumphs, including the famous Salome dance, form mountainous pyramids and elephantine tableaux, play provoking pranks and in many other ways show astounding agility and surprising sagacity.

It is a noteworthy fact, however, that as working elephants this Hagenbeck-Wallace group of pachyderms excel. Trained and broken as beasts of burden on the public works of Ceylon, they have not been permitted to forget their earlier teachings. Driven by their trainers, they carry in their trunks the heaviest tent poles without apparent effort. The primitive method of pushing wagons with their heads is sometimes resorted to by them, or with ropes in their mouths they easily pull the largest trucks and dens, moving them with ease, though they be hub deep in the mire. At feeding time the elephants are sometimes led to the hay pile outside the tent. Each animal with its trunk picks up a hundred pound bale and carries it into the menagerie tent. With a stamp of the foot they break the binding wire and proceed to munch the meal they have thus prepared. As extra pay for their efforts they are given handfuls of peanuts and choice dainties that would delight the average child. They relish these with a gusto highly epicurean and show their gratitude by loud trumpeting. Such interesting sights as these are to be seen daily on the show grounds of the Hagenbeck-Wallace.
